

MASTER PLAN FOR TOWNSHIP URGED AT DECOTO MEET

A master plan to be used in guiding the development of Washington Township was urged Tuesday evening at the December meeting of the Decoto Chamber of Commerce. H. F. Harrold, long-time resident of the township and engineer for the Alameda County Water District, made the proposal.

The Decoto Chamber voted to present the matter to the Washington Township Chamber of Commerce.

"Any city that ever amounted to anything," Mr. Harrold declared, "grew to plan. Washington Township is going to grow into one large community. We need to know where future roads and streets will be. If we don't have a plan, we'll have a mess."

He urged that the county be asked to draw up a master plan to be used as a guide for future developments.

His suggestion was made in connection with a discussion of the problems of the Tareyton Village subdivision north of Decoto. It was indicated that the new subdivision will make arrangements with the city of Hayward for sewage disposal instead of with the Decoto Sanitary District.

President Ed Paniagua appointed a committee consisting of Manuel Hidalgo, B. R. Joseph, Mahuel Seane, James Fine and Fred Sanchez to consult with the developers of Tareyton to determine if a sewer connection with Decoto is possible.

Other business transacted at Tuesday's meeting included:

Recommendation that the property north of Whipple Road in Decoto be annexed to the Alameda County Water District;

A call for volunteers to decorate two outdoor Christmas trees on Decoto Road on Sunday morning;

Recommendation that Twelfth Street be widened and extended north to Whipple Road;

Recommendation that a flashing light signal be installed at the Southern Pacific railroad crossing near the Decoto School on Whipple Road.

Secretary Gene Manning of the Township Chamber of Commerce urged the Chamber to support the civilian defense program by members signing registration forms. These are available at all township post offices.

Following the transaction of business, the annual election of officers was held, resulting in the election of the following:

President, Ed Paniagua
Vice-President, A. Lopez
Secretary, B. R. Joseph
Treasurer, Peter Decoto
Directors, James Fine, Frank Borghi, Manuel Hidalgo.

President Paniagua appointed a new Boy Scout committee to assist Scoutmaster John J. Richardson in organizing a new Scout troop which will be sponsored by the Chamber. On the committee are: James Fine, Manuel Hidalgo, L. W. Musick, B. R. Joseph and Roy Orozco.

PACKING PLANT EXPANSION OKAYED

The Alameda County Planning Commission has recommended for approval the application of the West Coast Meat Company for a use permit to construct additions to an existing slaughterhouse near Alvarado.

There were no protests to the company's plan to expand the old Hellwig Meat Company's operation on Marsh Road near Alvarado at the public hearing conducted by the Planning Commission.

The approval, however, is subject to the requirements posed by the Board of Health.

The West Coast Meat Company operates a slaughterhouse on Madison Avenue, Castro Valley.

MYSTERY PICTURE LOCATION PUZZLES MANY CONTESTANTS

The gravel loading bin pictured in The Register's "Guess Where" Contest last week proved to be too common a sight for Washington Township residents.

Although all of the 46 persons who telephoned their answers to The Register knew what the pictured objective was, nearly one-half of the contestants missed the location of the picture.

The first six persons to telephone their answers gave the wrong location of the plant.

Stewart Wilkinson, Niles, the seventh person to telephone, won the first prize, identifying it as the property of the Bell Sand & Gravel Company on Durham Road near Irvington.

The second cash prize was not won until Saturday morning, when Oliver Cordeniz of Niles, the 36th person to phone, won $2.50 by becoming the twentieth person to correctly identify the mystery picture.

The first twenty persons to correctly identify the picture and its location were: Stewart Wilkinson, Niles; Thelma Biale, Niles; Dick Gellersen, Niles; Leslie Callahan, Irvington; Virginia Alias, Centerville; Bob Halpin, Niles; Mrs. John Williams, Centerville; Mrs. Joe Burned, Irvington; Walter Blake, Centerville; Anthony Rogers, Mission San Jose.

Mrs. George Scamman, Irvington; Melford Alameda, Irvington; Mrs. Frank Cardoza, Irvington; Mrs. Leon Orcutt, Niles; Louise Perry, Irvington; Mrs. Edna Overacker, Niles; Helen Bettencourt, Newark; Lena Horat, Centerville; Mrs. Grace Reid, Irvington, and Oliver Cordeniz, Niles.

Ray Benbow of Irvington narrowly missed becoming the second prize winner, his correct answer being telephoned to The Register but seconds after Cordeniz's.

This week's picture puzzle appears at the bottom of this page. When you think you know what it is and where it is located telephone The Township Register, Niles 3261 or 3271, after 9 a.m., and if you are either the first or twentieth to give the correct answers you will receive a check for $2.50.

More and more people are enjoying playing the "Guess Where" Contest. It costs nothing to participate and you may win $2.50. Telephone your answers today—but act promptly.

PUBLIC INVITED TO YULE PAGEANT

"The Littlest Angel," a Christmas pageant, will be presented at the Niles School auditorium by the students on the evening of December 14, according to Principal E. D. Bristow. The performance will mark the first time that the new school choir, under the direction of Miss Mary Virginia Bristow, will appear before the public.

Six-year-old Richard Dennis of the first grade will appear in the title role of "The Littlest Angel." Others in the cast are: Douglas Elliott, gatekeeper; Billy Odom, understanding angel; Karen Chrysler, Virgin Mary; Craig Bellatti, St. Joseph; and angels, Bobbie Kaiser, Darlene Cahill, Merle Vervais, Shirley Laughlin, Penna Borne, Peggy Chrysler, Janet Pessagno, and Sharon Franco.

The public is invited to attend the performance which is scheduled for 8 p.m.

UNION NEGOTIATES FOR NEW CONTRACT AT NEWARK PLANT

The strike of International Chemical Workers Union, Local 62, A.F.L., at the Westvaco Chemical Division Food Machinery & Chemical Corporation, Newark, entered its third week on Wednesday.

First negotiations since the strike was called on November 21 were held between union and company representatives yesterday, but no settlement had been reached late in the afternoon.

The current strike marks the first time the plant has been closed down over a labor dispute in its 17 years of operation at Newark.

The strike was called at the termination of the union's contract, when the company refused to meet the demands of the union's terms for a new contract.

At the time the strike was called union spokesmen stated that they were fearful that the strike might be a "long one."

However, yesterday's called session for negotiations of a new contract might lead to an early settlement of differences.

Major changes sought in the new contract by the union are:

1. Optional rather than compulsory overtime.
2. The contract to expire in June rather than November.
3. A 15 cents per hour wage increase.
4. Seven paid holidays per year instead of the present six.
5. Three weeks paid vacation for workers after five years instead of the present 15 years with the company.
6. Sick benefits to begin the first day instead of the fourth day.
7. A revision in the present arbitration procedure.
8. A closed union shop.

YOU'RE NEVER TOO OLD TO DOS-A-DOS

When do you get too old to learn to dance?

Never! say the residents of the Masonic Home in Decoto, who have just started taking folk-dancing lessons under the supervision of Mrs. Frances Mara.

"The 'baby' of the class is 64 years old," said Mrs. Mara, "and several are in their eighties."

When asked if the dances weren't a bit strenuous for the oldsters, Mrs. Mara replied that so far she had taught them only the milder dances such as the Varsouvienne, which they love. "Perhaps," she continued, "they can't move around as quickly as the younger groups I teach, but they certainly can't be beaten for enthusiasm. I've never seen a more enthusiastic group."

Folk-dancing night is eagerly anticipated at the Home each week, not only by those who participate, but by those who, afraid that the old joints can't take it any longer, simply stand by as spectators.

NEW GRAVEL PIT SOUGHT AT NILES

An application to operate a gravel pit along Alameda Creek near Niles has been filed with the Alameda County Planning Commission by Thomas Russell.

The area involved is west of the California Nursery and would be bounded by an extension of Fox Road and Roeding Avenue.

The Planning Commission turned the application over to the district attorney and county surveyor for a report on boundary lines and ownership of Alameda Creek.

WASHINGTON HIGH SCHOOL WILL LOSE 2 FACULTY MEMBERS

The members of the Board of Trustees of Washington Union High School learned at their meeting Tuesday evening that two vacancies in the teaching staff would occur on January 1.

It was announced that Stebler Loze, a First Lieutenant in the U. S. Army Signal Corps Reserve, had been ordered to active duty, to depart for Camp Gordon, Georgia, on January 2.

Loze, who has been a science instructor at the high school here for the past four and one-half years, was granted a military leave of absence by the board members.

The other vacancy was created by the resignation of Jed Oxborrow. Oxborrow has been a member of the faculty, serving as agricultural instructor and F.F.A. advisor, for the past three and one-half years. He asked that his resignation become effective January 1.

J. V. Goold, district superintendent, announced yesterday that George Starret, cadet teacher here for the past ten weeks from Stanford University, will replace Loze in the science department.

Goold stated that no replacement has been hired as yet for Oxborrow, but expressed confidence that a new instructor would be added to the staff by the time that school reconvenes following the Christmas vacation.

COURT OF HONOR AT IRVINGTON

Boy Scouts of Washington Township will gather at the Community Building, Irvington Elementary School, on Monday evening for a Washington Area Court of Honor. The public is invited to the affair, which is scheduled for 8 p.m. The Irvington Scout Troop 1 will be hosts at the court.

Scouts from Irvington, Centerville, Niles, Newark, Alvarado and Decoto will be in attendance to receive special awards and recognition.

Arrangements for the court have been completed by Phil Sousa, advancement chairman.

AIRCRAFT WARNING POST REACTIVATED, HEADED BY FOSTER

The appointment of Ken Foster of Newark as Ground Observer Post Supervisor was announced this week by headquarters of the Western Air Defense Force, Hamilton Air Force Base, Hamilton, California.

In announcing Foster's appointment, Lt. Colonel Stanley E. Matthews, U.S.A.F., director of civil defense, stated, "It has been decided by the top air defense planners in Washington, D. C., that the radar system for detection and tracking of enemy airplanes is not, in itself, sufficient for our air defense needs. . . . The ground observer's purpose is to see or hear low-flying airplanes which radar cannot detect."

NEEDS VOLUNTEERS

Foster was instructed to begin immediately in selecting the personnel to man the ground observer post at Newark. He was told that between 20 and 30 persons will be needed to be trained to report aircraft at each post.

Only two ground observers will be on duty at any one time, but, according to the instructions, "Many more are needed because if the United States should be attacked by hostile aircraft, the ground observer system would have to operate for 24 hours every day. With 20 or 30 people trained for each post, no one person needs to spend an excessive amount of time on the job."

Once organized and trained, the ground observers will be placed on a standby basis until scheduled air defense exercises are held, or until the system is needed for actual air defense. The first training exercise in which the post will participate will last for about one week. Exercises after that will last for shorter periods and will be held about once every three months.

There are no restrictions placed by the federal government on who may be a member of a ground observer post. Responsible persons of any age, creed, or of either sex are eligible.

PROMPT ACTION URGED

The letter to Foster concluded, "You are asked to act without delay in organizing your post. This is not intended in any way to be alarming, but we feel that it is only common sense to have an air defense system completely ready for use as soon as possible, even though we hope we will never have to use it."

Foster announced immediately that he is anxious for volunteers to offer their services at their earliest possible convenience. He asked that they either contact him in person or telephone his residence, Newark 3-3902.

DAMAGE SUIT FILED BY NEWARK FAMILY

A $50,700 damage suit has been filed in the Superior Court of Santa Clara County, San Jose, by Bidal Ramirez and family of Newark.

The damage suit resulted from a highway accident in June of 1950 at the intersection of El Camino Real and Embarcadero.

Ramirez, driver and owner of one of the cars, was accompanied by Tony, Merced, Margaret and Eleanor Amarillas and Richard Ayala, all of whom were reportedly injured.

Driver of the other car, and defendant in the damage suit, is Jerry Thede, a student at Stanford University.

The Newark family is represented by the law firm of Norris and Broun, Centerville. They seek $50,000 for personal injuries and $700 for damage to the automobile.

19 LOCAL YOUTHS CALLED TO DUTY BY DRAFT BOARD

The largest group of men to be called to duty with the armed forces since World War II left Washington Township last Thursday, ordered to duty by Selective Service Board No. 54 in Hayward.

Six of the communities of Washington Township provided 19 men in the quota of 66 men called to duty by Board No. 54.

The November quota swelled the list of township men called to duty by Selective Service since it was reactivated in August to 34. Six men were included in the September quota and nine were taken from this area for the October quota.

The men who left last week and now at Fort Ord undergoing training and awaiting assignments are: Maximo Rodriguez, Henry Sanchez and John Torquemada, Decoto; William Rose, Lloyd Rash, Herbert Cartwright, James Pershinger, Mulard Correia, and Thomas Cardenas, Niles; Robert Rose, Salvador Galvan and Max O'Neil, Irvington.

Jimmy Abad, Charles Mech, Walter Senn and Joshua Omaliza, Centerville; Melvin Correia and Alexander Bernard, Newark, and Joseph Roderick, Alvarado.

Selective Service Board No. 54, which serves Southern Alameda County, has ordered 80 men to report on December 13 for pre-induction physical examinations in preparation for meeting its quota for December. The exact number of men to be called to duty this month is not known as yet.

Manuel W. Lewis, member of the selective service board, warned local youths this week that if they intend to enlist in one of the branches of the armed forces they must do so prior to receiving their pre-induction physical examination notices. Once a man has received his notice to report for the physical examination he can no longer be accepted as an enlistee by any of the recruiting offices.

SEEK CHANGE IN HIGHWAY SETBACK

A delegation from the Decoto Chamber of Commerce called on R. J. Wright, Irvington, chairman of the Alameda County Planning Commission, on Monday to request that property fronting on the Niles-Hayward Highway be rezoned.

It was pointed out that the area is zoned for commercial use and calls for a 25-foot setback of buildings from the property line. Such a setback shortens the lots to such an extent they are no longer desirable for building sites, the members stated.

Wright expressed belief that the setback could be reduced with a minimum of difficulty and agreed to bring the matter to the attention of the Planning Commission at its next meeting.

DE GUADALUPE DAY

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 12
De Guadalupe Day will be celebrated at Holy Rosary Church in Decoto and Corpus Christi Church in Niles on Tuesday with special masses. Father Ralph Duggan will deliver the sermon in Spanish.

ALVARADO LASHED BY NEW FLOODS AS RAINS CONTINUE

Alvarado continued to bear the brunt of the rampaging waters of Alameda Creek this week with one flood coming upon the heels of another before the residents of that community had an opportunity to return to normal living conditions.

Early last Monday morning Lowry Road, which serves as a dike south of Alvarado, was cut for the second time in two weeks, allowing the muddy waters of the creek to flow through a section of the town.

Monday's flood did not reach the crest of the November flood but some 18 homes were isolated by the high water.

Dry Creek overflowed its banks between Decoto and Alvarado and flooded several hundred acres of vegetable land on Monday.

Numerous streets of Alvarado have remained closed all week by the high water, and the area was being threatened again last night by rising waters from Wednesday's downpour.

Crews from the Southern Pacific railroad have staged an almost endless battle to keep the railroad bridge near Alvarado clear of debris to prevent the backing up of water, which has ended twice in the dike being cut.

County crews have been kept busy making huge fills where the flood waters have cut through the dike at Lowry Road.

The rain gauge at the Southern Pacific depot in Niles recorded 1.80 inches of rainfall Saturday and Sunday and another 1.10 inches Wednesday.

The season's total, since July 1, has now reached 10.41 inches, more than four times the 2.27 inches recorded here for the same period last year.

POSTMASTERS GIVE MAILING ADVICE

Postmasters of Washington Township this week gave some hints to local residents to make it possible for them to know that their Christmas mailing reaches its destination before December 25.

In regard to Christmas cards, postmasters strongly recommended three-cent stamps. E. E. Enos, Niles postmaster, said yesterday, "First-class mail receives preferred handling, transportation and delivery—and that means a lot at the peak of the Christmas rush. The extra penny may ensure that your Christmas greeting card will arrive several days before the slower third-class mail."

He stated that the Christmas greeting cards may be mailed third-class if not sealed. However, they will not be forwarded or returned if the address is incorrect.

Cards for out-of-state delivery should be posted by December 15 to insure delivery before Christmas.

BOOST IN LOCAL WATER RATES SEEN AS PROBABILITY

Probability that water rates will have to be increased in the not too distant future was expressed this week by W. D. Patterson, president of the Alameda County Water District.

Mr. Patterson pointed to the recent action taken by the Public Utilities Commission in San Francisco to increase water rates to users outside their county.

The new schedule is to become effective February 1. It must first, however, be formally approved by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors. Eight of the 11 supervisors would have to oppose the new rates in order to prevent them from becoming official.

Under the new rates the Hetch-Hetchy water users outside of San Francisco will pay 16 cents per 100 cubic feet instead of the present 11.8 cents.

Patterson pointed out that the 11.8 cents is the lowest rate quoted "outsiders" by San Francisco. He said that the first 3,000 cubic feet used costs .30½ cents and the rate declines with the amount of water used to the minimum of 11.8 cents at the 333,000 cubic feet minimum.

The amount of Hetch-Hetchy water used for distribution here varies with the season, but it was learned yesterday that the average for the past two months was 574,800 cubic feet per month, or approximately 4½ million gallons.

Patterson said yesterday that the local rates will not be raised on February 1 to correspond with the increase voted by San Francisco, but stated that an eventual increase seems inevitable.

STEEL MILL IS SPONSORING PARTY

The kiddies skating party and Christmas dance, December 16 at the Garden of Allah, seem to be the main conversation throughout the plant for the past couple of weeks.

The entertainment committee, composed of good workers on such affairs, are Ray Seccombe, Harry Avilla, Hoy Odom of the 26-inch mill; Roby Pierce, 12-inch mill; Dave Fischer, open hearth department; Cecil Norman, maintenance department.

Tickets are being sold by these men and will also be on sale at the door.

All the kiddies of the township are invited to attend the skating party, and the public is invited to the dance.

PREHISTORIC PITS PUZZLE SCIENTISTS

Anthropologists from the Santa Barbara and Berkeley campuses of the University of California announced that findings from an excavation of a once-populous prehistoric Indian village included waterproof pits, built into the dirt floors of their homes.

Found for the first time in California, these pits may have been used for the storage of acorns or seeds or may have been built-in fireless cookers, according to Dr. Norman E. Gabel, assistant professor of anthropology at Santa Barbara College, who headed the expedition.

The excavation was made in the Jalama Creek section, 60 miles northwest of Santa Barbara, with ten anthropology majors from Berkeley working with Dr. Gabel.

The pits which provided a puzzle for anthropologists were about two feet across with bottoms and sides waterproofed with asphalt. Around the top they had been fired, making them like brick.

Dr. Gabel expressed the opinion that the Indians tossed hot stones into the pits, after putting food and water in them, in order to cook their food. He added that statite, widely used by Indians further south in the Santa Barbara Channel area and obtained from Catalina, was almost virtually absent from Jalama Creek excavations, indicating that Indian trade once conducted by hundreds of canoeists, probably did not reach the Jalama section.

The area excavated was still the site of a large Indian village when the Spanish were developing California and is mentioned in their records.

ANNUAL MEN'S CLUB PARTY DECEMBER 14

The annual High Jinx of the Washington Township Men's Club will be staged Thursday evening, December 14, at the Memorial Building in Niles.

The affair will open with a dinner, to be served by the ladies of the Legion Auxiliary at 7 p.m.

Harry Weber, general chairman, said yesterday that a "bang-up" program has been arranged.

RED CROSS MAPS FUND DRIVE TO MEET WAR WORK

Officers of the Oakland Area Red Cross Chapter met Wednesday evening at the International Kitchen to map plans for their forthcoming fund campaign.

All agreed that they are faced with a tremendous task of raising additional funds the coming year to cope with the demand for increased activity in the war work.

Judge O. D. Hamlin Jr., president of the Oakland Chapter, presided over the meeting and reported on the recent meeting held in Chicago with General George Marshall.

Tom Russ of the Oakland Chapter told of the difficulty in providing technical staffs to operate the blood banks but stated that portable units would be manned in the near future. He pointed out that the Red Cross is faced with the problem right now of providing much greater service on the comparatively light contributions received last year. He stated that more than $600,000 had been spent by the Red Cross in the past few weeks in caring for flood victims.

Joseph E. Smith, Oakland, fund chairman, outlined his organization for the coming drive.

Edwin Meese Jr., campaign chairman for the Red Cross Branches, reported that LeRoy Broun, Washington Township chairman, and Peter Juhl, campaign chairman, will head the drive here again this year.

Present at the meeting were: Harold Crew, publicity chairman; Ann Ford, director of fund raising; Judge Hamlin; Joseph Smith; Mrs. Joseph Smith; LeRoy Broun, Washington Township chairman; Edwin Meese Jr.; O. G. Johannessen, publisher of the San Leandro Reporter; Tom Russ; Dale E. Roe, Oakland; Dr. J. L. McGonegal, Pleasanton Branch; C. A. Runyon, Pleasanton Branch; Gordon Minder, San Leandro; John Puroho, Hayward Branch; Homer E. Lewis, San Leandro; Esther MacDonald, San Leandro, and Ursula Cruzan, director of publicity.

YULE PARTY AT NEWARK DEC. 15

Newark children of pre-school and school age will be given a party on Friday, December 15, to be sponsored jointly by the P.T.A., Women's Improvement Club and Chamber of Commerce.

The party for the pre-school age children and the pupils through the fourth grade will be held in the school auditorium beginning at 2 p.m. It will include a one-act play entitled, "Santa's Helpers," selections by the kindergarten rhythm band, readings by the verse choir and the visit from Santa Claus.

The evening program, for the youngsters of the upper grades, will be held in the auditorium beginning at 7:30. It will include selections by the orchestra and glee club and a visit from Santa Claus.

SKATING PARTY FOR EXPLORER SCOUTS

The annual ice skating party for Explorers of the Oakland Area Scout Council will be held at Iceland Rink in Berkeley, Tuesday evening, Dec. 19, at 8:15, the council committee has announced. Tickets are 30 cents per person and are available through the Oakland Area Council office. The party, as last year, complete with specially skating sets during intermissions, usually fills the large rink.

Skates are included in the admission price. Explorers may bring their dates or come stag. Leaders and their wives are invited, according to Robert Burnstein, council chairman of special events, and Gordon Fountain, council chairman of the Explorer planning committee. Explorers from troops, posts, ships and squadrons are invited to participate.

CENTERVILLE SCHOOL VISIT SUGAR MILL

The eighth grade class visited the Holly Sugar Mill in Alvarado on Thursday, Nov. 4.

Arrangements were completed by the class officers: Herman Bettencourt, president; Leo Gonsalves, vice-president; Sandra Bechtold and Eddie Shannon, secretaries, and Alberta Abreu, treasurer.

The class was accompanied by Mrs. Alice Lambrecht and Principal Tom Maloney.

CLOTHING COLLECTION

Students of the school are participating in the annual collection of serviceable clothing for needy children in the United States and for many foreign countries. All types of garments can be used, adult, children and baby.

The clothing and shoes will be distributed by the Save the Children Federation.

The P.T.A. is assisting in this collection and a committee of students, Donnie Gravestock, Stanley Perry, George Koern and George Roderick, have been making the necessary arrangements.

The drive will close on Wednesday, Dec. 13. Anyone who has clothing he or she wishes to donate should leave it at the school, or phone Mr. Tom Maloney, principal, and someone will be glad to call.

MOBILE BLOOD UNIT PROMISED TO TOWNSHIP CHAMBER

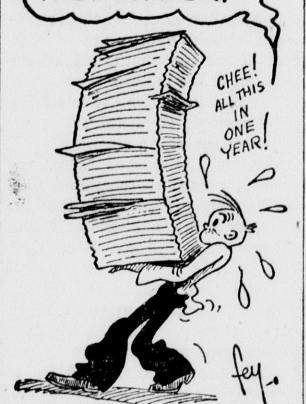

Those in the township who have expressed a desire to be blood donors but have not had the time to make the trip to Oakland, will be glad to know that a mobile blood unit will be in Niles either the latter part of December or the first of January.

Gene Manning, secretary of the Washington Township Chamber of Commerce, stated this week that he had a favorable reply from the Oakland Chapter, American Red Cross, to a letter he wrote last week asking that a mobile unit be sent to this area.

"I am anxious to have as many people as possible sign up with me," said Manning, "for as soon as we have enough donors pledged, the Red Cross authorities will send down a unit."

Those who wish to be donors may phone Manning at the Township Chamber office, Centerville 8-8916. The appointments will be arranged so that housewives and working men alike will be able to take advantage of this opportunity to donate blood for our wounded in Korea.

LIONS BENEFIT PARTY TONIGHT

A capacity crowd is expected at the gymnasium of Washington Union High School tonight (Friday) to compete for the hundreds of prizes offered by the Centerville Lions Club at their annual whist party.

A. E. Alameda, general chairman of the affair, said today that all preliminary arrangements have been completed by his committees and promised an entertaining evening for all participants.

The affair is staged annually to raise funds for the club's eye correction program for the needy children of Washington Township. The club has spent more than $800 in the past three years for eye treatments and glasses for children from all communities of the township.

EMBEZZLERS THINK THEY ARE 'BORROWERS'

Many embezzlers think of themselves merely as temporary "borrowers" until they reach a point where they realize they cannot repay the sums "borrowed," according to Dr. Donald R. Cressey, sociologist on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California.

DAY BY DAY IN DECOTO

By GRACE CAMINADA

SPECIAL MEETING

The Decoto P.T.A.'s next meeting will be held on Wednesday, December 13, at 8 p.m. A program, under the direction of Mrs. Vivienne Dunn, will be presented, with the faculty entertaining.

After the "Fun and Frolic" program, refreshments will be served. All fathers are especially invited and are urged to attend.

BELATED WISHES

Belated birthday wishes to Donald Bragg who celebrated his birthday on Thursday, Nov. 29.

NEW DAUGHTER

Pink booties are on parade as the spotlight shines on 7 pound, 12 ounce Evangeline Francisco Hernandez, born on November 28 at 7:10 a.m. in Hayward. She was presented to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Hernandez of 416 Eighth Street, by Dr. Morgan Lee.

BIG SUCCESS

Joe Seane Jr., chairman for the Decoto Firemen's Dance, wishes to thank everyone who attended the dance Saturday night on behalf of the volunteer firemen. Over 1000 persons enjoyed the music of Howard Frederic and his orchestra and all had a good time. Thanks everyone.

BIRTHDAY FETED

Your reporter was remembered with some very lovely gifts last Saturday night when she celebrated her birthday. Joining in for the celebration were the Joseph Buonassissi of Vallejo, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Tedeschi and Joanne of San Leandro, Mr. and Mrs. John Tedeschi of Hayward, Rinaldo Sal, Diane Rae and David Caminada, and Daddy Caminada.

NEW OFFICERS

The Giuseppe Mazzini group of the Sons of Italy held their meeting on Thursday, Nov. 30, at Centerville. Nick Fazio of Niles was elected president of the group, which has about 50 members. Other officers elected were: Mrs. Tina Fantuzzi, vice-president; Miss Oda Orocchi, secretary; Miss Barbara Ponti, financial secretary, and Felici Ponti, treasurer. Several hundred members of the bay area chapters are expected to attend the charter ceremony for this group at a buffet dinner and dance at the Garden of Allah on Dec. 10, at 2 p.m.

ON CASUALTY LIST

A Decoto boy was among the names of soldiers missing on casualty lists recently released by the Department of Defense. Pvt. Joseph M. Melesio, 16, adopted son of Mrs. Flora Roldan of Fifth Street and Peter Figueroa of Russell City, was reported missing. Members of the family said that Joseph, anxious to join the Army, had lied about his age and entered the service when he was only 14. Other relatives include a sister, Mrs. Elsie Rivera of Decoto, and two brothers, Peter and David Figueroa.

OPEN HOUSE

Al and Marcella Rodrigues of Sixth Street held open house at their home after the Firemen's Dance last Saturday. Delicious refreshments were served until the "wee hours" Sunday morning.

ANOTHER OPEN HOUSE

Mr. and Mrs. Chese and their five children, who have been living for several months on Third Street, had an open house party for their relatives and friends last Friday night. The only ones from Decoto were Mrs. Delmar Martinez and her children, Frances, Ralph and Gary. The Cheses formerly lived in Hayward.

SERENADED

Elsie Gonzales was personally serenaded Saturday night by Al "Frankie Sinatra" Rodrigues, who sang "Happy Birthday" to Elsie as her birthday fell on Sunday, Dec. 3.

GOOD LUCK

Good luck to "Shorty" Garcia on the opening of the new service station opposite the Alco Preserving Company on Tenth and H Streets.

Where's the Fire?

Tuesday, Nov. 28, Newark, 5:30 p.m., Walnut Street, house trailer. Wednesday, Nov. 29, Decoto, 12:30 p.m., 411 Fifth Street, automobile.

FARMER'S INCOME HIGHER IN '51, SAYS FARM ECONOMIST

Most farmers will receive higher incomes in 1951 than this year, but production goods, family living and taxes will cost them more. Agricultural production will total the largest in history, weather permitting, says Robert C. Rock, extension economist, University of California Agricultural Extension Service, in a statement to Farm Advisor Lee Benson.

Much of the expected boost in farm output will come from meat animals and cotton. Cattle and hog marketings are expected to increase and the cotton crop is likely to be larger than this year's small output. Smaller increases are expected for other farm commodities.

With prices and production both up, net income realized by operators may rise about 15 per cent, but probably not to the levels of 1947 or 1948. Rising prices will hold the purchasing power of farm income below those two years.

Behind this prospect are continued high rate of business and industrial activity, record level of employment and consumer income, likely increase in foreign demand for many U. S. products.

NEW CHEVROLET ON DISPLAY SATURDAY

Added safety, greater driving ease and fresh re-styling highspot the 1951 Chevrolet which goes on display tomorrow (Saturday) at the showrooms of Central Chevrolet Company in Centerville.

Important improvements and changes are featured in both chassis and body. These changes range from the "biggest brakes in the low-price field" to extensive design innovations that make the car appear much longer and lower than any previous model.

The Powerglide automatic transmission, Chevrolet's sensational driving advance, has been refined for the latest models, although remaining fundamentally the same flexible driving control. It will again be optional on De Luxe models only.

Four passenger body types are included in the 1951 line. The new line of 1951 trucks will go on display at the same time.

There are some 6000 inland lakes in Michigan.

ABOUT PEOPLE 'N THINGS—

Miss Cecelia Enos, art teacher at the Niles School, dyed two full bolts of cheesecloth for the scenic effects in the Christmas pageant to be presented at the school on December 14. The "Littlest Angel" in the pageant is six-year-old Clifford Dennis, whose mother claims he is miscast.

Joe Boliba, Niles grocer, speaks five languages: Japanese, Spanish, Italian, English, and Portuguese. He learned these languages when he lived in Hawaii and worked as a salesman. In order to sell, he had to be able to talk to his customers in their own language. This accomplishment has also proved profitable in his business here in Niles.

Many people are giving subscriptions to The Township Register as Christmas gifts. This is a very smart thing to do. The recipients of such a gift will remember you the whole year through.

Many parents are almost at the stage of having apoplectic strokes brought on by radio advertisers admonishing parents to "make it a television Christmas." This is all very well—if you can afford television. The gist of the advertising, however, implies that parents who do not buy their children television sets for Christmas are doing the child a great injustice. The child will grow up to be a maladjusted moron, which is even worse than a plain moron. According to the advertisers there is no worse fate in store for your child than to have to be deprived of a television set. If you can't afford it, don't worry. Buy it anyhow. If the child can't have food, he can at least watch the food as it is prepared by home economists on television. This will no doubt quench his appetite.

E. D. BRISTOW, principal of the Niles School, tells of having to play Santa Claus at the school one year because L. L. Lewis, the REAL Santa Claus, was unable to attend. "You know," said Mr. Bristow, "I thought I was pretty well disguised, but one little first-grader said—looking at my shoes—I know him! That's Mr. Bristow! I can tell by his shoes." And another little first-grader continued the principal, "knew me by the ring I wear on my finger." Who says children aren't observing?

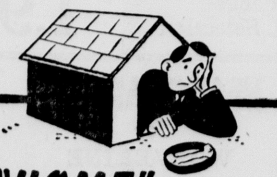

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS SEEKING EMPLOYMENT

Local residents having any part time work which they would like done before the holidays have been urged to telephone the high school and offer the jobs to students.

Warren Gravestock, vice-principal, said this week that many of the students have registered requests for part-time work to help them raise some Christmas shopping funds.

"These youngsters are very deserving and willing to work," Gravestock said. "I hope that the people of the township will give them an opportunity to earn some Christmas money."

The first issue of the New York Weekly Journal, Nov. 15, 1733, contained an article on liberty of the press.

"HOME" FOR HUSBANDS

Of course you can't live in the doghouse. But if you have neglected to take out enough fire insurance, where would you go if fire destroyed your home? It's a cinch you'd be in the wife's doghouse a long, long time . . . so stay out—come in and see us for fire insurance.

FROM WASHINGTON, D. C. TO WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP

The news this past week emanating from Washington, D. C., concerning President Truman, his policies, and the fiasco in Korea has caused rumblings that can be felt as far away as Washington Township.

Democrats and Republicans here alike are proclaiming—and not too quietly either—that the man in the White House has bungled shamefully in handling the affairs of state. Thousands of our young men, representing the flower of our youth, are stranded on foreign soil, the helpless victims of Chinese Reds. Stalin must be quietly smiling to himself to realize that his plans for involving the U. S. with his satellite countries, with the eventual prospect of wearing us down so that he and his Russian hordes can go in for the kill, are seeming to come to fruition.

Whatever the U. S. does now—whether our troops stay and fight it out in Korea, or whether we pull out entirely, one heartbreaking fact remains apparent: the United States has been outwitted. No one, not even President Truman himself, can deny it.

How has this unsavory situation come about?

It has come about because our leaders in Washington are not leaders in the true sense of the word. The President has surrounded himself with visionaries, theorists who quote beautiful platitudes. We are referring particularly, of course, to Secretary of State Dean Acheson who, more than any other man, has aroused a sense of alarm in the heart of every American because of his inept handling of our foreign policy.

We, the little people in the rural areas of America, are righteously concerned over the sudden turn for the worse in our affairs of state. We are grimly aware that the way things are handled in Washington, D. C., determines the future course of events here in Washington Township. It is our sons who are being sent over on foreign soil; it is our homes that would feel the effect of the atomic bomb; it is our land that would be ravaged by an invader. Therefore we have a right to let those in Washington, D. C., know that we are dissatisfied with our foreign policy, that we are fed up with the bungling of the "experts."

Thank God we can still vote! Let us hope, however, that before another election comes around that President Truman will have had the astuteness to do a little housecleaning in Washington. Never has there been a time in our history when there has been such a need for men of ability and of forcefulness. There are plenty of them in America, and at this crisis in our history, does it matter whether they be Republicans or Democrats?

WAYS TO SAVE MONEY

Are there reasons why you should do your Christmas shopping in Washington Township?

Yes! There are. Very definite ones—all to your advantage.

Smart shoppers have figured out in

Township Register

Serving Washington Township in Southern Alameda County since 1888

Published every Friday morning at 804 First Street in Niles, Alameda County, California, and entered as second class mail matter at the Post Office at Niles, California, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

dollars and cents that they can SAVE MONEY by patronizing our local merchants. The prices are no higher than are city prices because of the Fair Trades Act that prohibits merchants from cutting prices on most items. In addition to that, there is a savings made on transportation costs. A trip to the city, either on the bus or in your own car, costs money! Moreover, by going to the city to shop you have to pay the delivery or mailing costs.

If economy isn't of paramount importance in your scheme of living, as it is with most people, there are other reasons why shopping here can prove profitable to you. It is a great saving of wear and tear on the nervous system to shop where you are not at the mercy of great masses of humanity. Any woman who has spent a day shopping in a city during the Christmas rush knows the utter exhaustion experienced after being elbowed for five or six hours by bargain hunters.

By shopping in Washington Township you can save money, you can avoid crowds, and you can shop at your leisure and consequently make a wiser selection. And, too, by doing so you are, in effect, saying "Merry Christmas" to your merchant who, throughout the year, has given more to you than you realize by contributing innumerable prizes and untold sums of money, so that your clubs and organizations may prosper.

Keep the home fires burning. Shop in Washington Township.

NONE INVINCIBLE

Every year the football season offers proof that no team, however, great, is unbeatable. The season just closing (it's all over except for the bowl games) has been no exception.

No doubt the prize example of this was the stunning upset of the Army by the Navy last Saturday. The Cadets with not a defeat against them in nearly 30 games and the Middies with hardly more than two or three victories—theoretically—as anyone could imagine. But when the game was played the under dog Navy dominated the contest almost from start to finish.

There's an old saying that the team that won't be beaten can't be beaten. The Navy team proved it beyond a doubt.

The same thing applies in the lives of individuals. The man who will not quit regardless of the odds against him is the man who really succeeds and the man who helps make the world a better place.

Cover crops may be grown either in the winter or summer in Alameda County, reports Farm Advisor Lee Benson, University of California Agricultural Extension Service. Winter cover cropping is most commonly practiced because irrigation is not so important and there is less interference with other farming operations.

The characteristics of the soil and the effect desired determine, to some extent, the kind of winter cover crop to be used. On lighter soils the fine stemmed, more succulent species, such as the vetches, peas and cereals, will usually produce the best results.

On heavy, fine textured soils, a cover crop producing a stemmy growth, with a well developed taproot, such as Fenugreek, Melilotus, horse bean and mustards, usually loosens the soil more effectively and has a more beneficial effect on the physical condition of the soil than the finer stemmed species.

In recent years many orchardists have changed from vetch to mustard because the latter with its well developed, deep penetrating tap root is more effective in loosening the soil and encouraging water penetration.

The new homes come equipped with every modern convenience—except low monthly payments and taxes.

NEWARK News Notes

TRANSFERRED

Corporal Elidio Cunha, son of Mr. and Mrs. Antone Cunha, has been transferred from Fort Ord to Camp Roberts in San Luis Obispo where he is training recruits. His wife, Marie, and two daughters are presently staying at the home of Corporal Cunha's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Antone

Cunha of Thornton Avenue, until living accommodations can be found at San Luis Obispo.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

A very lovely birthday party was held Wednesday evening, November 29, in honor of Mrs. Antone Cunha at her home on Thornton Avenue. Serving as hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Cunha's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Marie Cunha, and two daughters.

A beautifully decorated birthday cake with the inscription, "Happy Birthday, Grandma," was served, along with coffee, ice cream and sandwiches.

These present were the guest of honor, Mrs. Antone Cunha and her husband, Mrs. Marie Cunha and two daughters, Mrs. Manuel Fontes of Olive Street, Mr. and Mrs. Domingues Nunes, Mr. Manuel Aguiar and Mr. and Mrs. Mendez. Very interesting pictures of the Abores Islands and Portugal were shown by one of the guests who made a recent trip there.

Mrs. Cunha received many lovely gifts including gold rosary beads from her two granddaughters and a lovely case for the beads from her son and daughter-in-law. She also received scores of beautiful birthday cards.

FOLK DANCERS ENTERTAIN

The student folk dancers of the Newark Grammar School entertained the P.T.A. at a meeting Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 5. The folk dancers are under the direction of Mrs. James Collins. Guest speaker at the meeting was Richard Harris. Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Charles Forrest, Gertrude Cottingham, Ann Dias, Jane Dias, June DeKnoop, Rose Enciso, Howard Hardey, Laura Fraguilla, Elmer Harris and E. H. Hoover.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

On December 12 a Christmas observance for the children of Newark will be held, with the Newark P.T.A., Chamber of Commerce and Women's Improvement Club jointly sponsoring it.

Afternoon Christmas parties will be given for the lower grades of the Newark Grammar School, and for the older children parties will be held in the evening.

The Chamber of Commerce committee includes Ken Foster, head of the committee, assisted by President Edw. Bimemiller, Principal Jack MacGregor and Harry Houston. The P.T.A. committee includes Mrs. Rose Martin, Mrs. Beth Andrus, Mrs. E. H. Lammi, Mrs. Alex DeKnoop, Mrs. John Schull, Mrs. Jud Taylor, Mrs. A. M. Lat-ham and Mrs. Kay Kettman.

SCHOOLS CLOSE DEC. 15

Public schools of Washington Township will close on Friday, December 15, for a two weeks' Christmas vacation. Classes will be resumed on Tuesday, January 2.

San Bernardino County has more than 50,000 acres planted to citrus fruits.

SAFEWAY

THIS SKETCH by Van der Goes, bridge department, California Division of Highways, is designed to show the progress made in the development of freeways and major highways in the ten counties since January, 1943, during the Warren administration.

State Reports on Highway Work in Alameda County

(The following is a summary of highway development in Alameda County since January 1, 1943, when Governor Earl Warren assumed office. It was released to The Register by the California Department of Public Works.—The Editor.)

The year 1950 saw the completion of the first unit of the East Shore Freeway in the city of Oakland. This unit, extending 6.1 miles from the south city limits of Oakland to Fallon Street, is a completely modern 4 and 6-lane divided freeway facility. The total cost of this unit was $12,026,000. It provides connections to the important cross streets throughout its length.

The next unit of this freeway to be put under construction will extend southerly to Lewelling Boulevard. A bridge across San Leandro Creek and the Southern Pacific Railroad costing $773,000 is already under construction, and the balance of the freeway unit has been advertised for bids which were received on October 18.

FREEWAY MOVES SOUTH

The 1951-52 budget, as voted by the highway commission, provided $2,799,000 for the construction of a further unit extending 3.7 miles south to an intersection with Route 105, which is a connection to the San Mateo Bridge. Right of way funds in the amount of $468,000 have also been provided.

Preliminary and final plans for the various units of the East Shore Freeway north of the distribution structure near the easterly end of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge are progressing rapidly. Funds have been provided for the construction of 1.2 mile section from the distribution structure to a point just south of Ashby Avenue. The total cost is $2,800,000 and it is expected that the project will be put under construction in the spring of 1951. The proposed project will include a grade separation and complete traffic separation at Powell Street, and will provide 8 lanes on the freeway itself. Similar construction is proposed to the north.

The right of way required for the portion of the East Shore Freeway through the city of Oakland involved the relocation of a large number of industrial improvements.

FOLLOWS BAY

The location of the freeway was placed so as to follow as closely as possible to the shore line of San Francisco Bay and the Estuary between Oakland and Alameda. The city of Oakland has been very cooperative in this project and the portion of freeway right of way along the Estuary included a considerable area of waterfront property owned by the city and set aside by it for the freeway development.

Here, as in the case of the Bayshore freeway project through the city and county of San Francisco, careful planning has been necessary in order to secure an orderly relocation of the numerous industries and residences involved. Many of the industrial establishments, due to an increasing scarcity of available industrial land close to the center of Oakland, have moved out to the rapidly growing San Leandro area which is served by rail facilities and will be easily reached by means of the new East Shore Freeway.

IMPROVE ROUTE 50

The elimination of the last remaining sections of two lane highway on Route 50 (U. S. 50) is proceeding in an orderly fashion as quickly as funds can be made available.

The first unit of construction, starting at the westerly end of Altamont Pass and extending 5.8 miles easterly to a point 1.5 miles west of Livermore, was recently opened to traffic. This project is a modern 4-lane divided highway, partly on new alignment, and shortens the traveling distance by about 0.4 mile. From the end of this job westerly for an additional 5.8 miles another project is under construction which should be completed in July of next year, costing $948,000.

In the 1951-52 construction program, $1,190,000 was voted to eliminate the last remaining section of 2-lane road on this route. This project will extend from Hopyard Road, east of Dublin, to 2½ miles west of Dublin and will be partly on new alignment. The route has been adopted and a Freeway Agreement consummated with the County of Alameda, covering the portion of Route 5 through Castro Valley. The design is in progress and $30,000 has been voted in the 1951-52 fiscal year for right of way acquisition in addition to an allotment of $40,000 in the current fiscal year.

CONNECTING ROUTE

Route 228, which will connect Route 5 to the East Shore Freeway on Route 69 near San Lorenzo, has been adopted and declared a freeway by the highway commission. Some right of way has been acquired and the Alameda County Planning Commission has been working closely with the state to the end that new subdivisions will conform as nearly as possible to the freeway requirements.

Route 227 along Mountain Boulevard in Oakland, which was taken into the Highway System by the 1947 Act of the Legislature, has been declared a freeway and construction has been started on the first unit under the direction of Joint Highway District No. 26, which comprises Alameda County, the city of Oakland and Contra Costa County, in addition to the state. The first unit extends from north of Broadway Terrace to Bruns, a length of 2.3 miles and the state's share is estimated to cost $678,000. The state and Joint Highway District have worked very closely on this project and the design by the Joint Highway District is well advanced for subsequent units.

A costly project to be undertaken late this year is the construction of a modern bridge connecting Bay Farm Island with the main portion of the City of Alameda. This project, which is estimated to cost $1,570,000, will replace the existing bridge which is obsolete structurally as well as from a traffic capacity standpoint.

Expenditure for right of way in Alameda County during the past seven and one-half years, a major portion of which has been required for the East Shore Freeway, amounted to $6,700,000.

U. S. 40 ROUTE

With the exception of the line changes in the vicinity of Fairfield and Dixon, the development of U. S. 40 has utilized the old pavement for two lanes of divided highway. Reconstruction of portions of this old pavement is estimated to cost $480,000 in the future.

Rights of way for the route in Solano County, including the acquisition of access rights, have required an investment of $2,534,000 since January 1, 1943.

NEW PONTIACS ON DISPLAY SATURDAY

With vibrant new styling, the 1951 Silver Anniversary Pontiacs will be shown to the public this week-end at the American Garage in Niles. The new car features 27 styling innovations and 16 mechanical improvements.

Fifteen models are included in the new line with Chieftian and Streamliner stylings available in either standard or deluxe models with six or eight cylinder engines and with hydra-matic and synchromesh transmission.

Horsepower rating of the 1951 Pontiac eight cylinder is 116 and the six cylinder engine 96 horsepower.

The 1951 Pontiac has 58-inch rear springs, six inches longer than in the 1950 model. Thickness of the spring leaves also has been increased for better cushioning of accelerating power and braking force.

The hydra-matic transmission continues as optional equipment.

Models available for 1951 in the Chieftian line are the four door sedan, two door sedan, sedan coupe, business coupe, Catalina, and deluxe convertible coupe.

The Streamliner series sedan-coupe is again available, either standard or deluxe.

Standard or deluxe station wagons may be obtained in two-tone paint or with simulated wood paneling. A sedan-delivery vehicle is included in the line.

Since January 1, 1943, construction funds in the amount of $6,462,000 have been invested on U.S. 40 in the construction of 24.3 miles of freeway, an average cost of $260,000 per mile.

On completion of the projects now under way, and soon to be under construction, this route will provide a high capacity, free flowing four-lane highway throughout its length in Solano County within legal speed limits. Travel time between Carquinez Bridge and the Yolo County line will have been reduced by 30 to 45 minutes.

The man who saved money years ago was considered a tightwad—today he is looked upon as a wonder.

Planting Time for Deciduous Trees, Shrubs

By ALFRED AMES
Garden Editor Magazine California

Harvest season is here for the nursery man who produces deciduous stuff such as fruit and nut trees, rose bushes, and those other things usually sold bare-rooted. This harvest marks the culmination of perhaps the most painstaking of all farming operations. From the viewpoint of California industry it certainly is one of the most important. In driving through our countless miles of California orchards, it is a never-ending source of amazement to realize that each tree of any given variety is an actual part of one original parent tree. At the last count there were over 5000 acres of one variety of plum tree in California alone.

This creation of Luther Burbank, the Santa Rosa plum, was first introduced in 1906 and is still produced in the leading variety wherever it is grown.

Growing Period

In order to make a tree available to you a two-year growing period is usually required before your local nurseryman offers it for sale. Let's bear in mind when buying, planting, or caring for orchard trees and most roses that we have an actual piece of the original tree or bush growing on a root of another variety. You and I could plant plum seeds for the rest of our lives and probably not get anything to equal the Santa Rosa. Of course, if you ask for an Elberta peach, two different varieties of almonds, and an assortment of roses, too—that's what you want and it's up to your nurseryman to get them for you. Let's give him a break—it's a problem to get them together. There are thousands of varieties to be grown, obviously, no one grower has them all. Actually growers usually specialize in certain types and varieties and offer these to your local distributor. If you want them in time for planting this season, order them early!

Sell Stock

It has been the custom for growers to sell deciduous stock to distributors in bundles, that is, 10 Santa Rosa plums, 10 Elberta peaches, 10 Nonpareil almonds, etc. Now, if you want a pretty pink plum with purple leaves—what becomes of the other nine? That's right, your local nurseryman took a loss—but you got your tree.

Lately, better methods of distribution are becoming available which are making possible a much happier future for all—particularly that certain tree you want. This is the way it works—your neighborhood nurseryman takes your order for a tree and sends it to the grower. This grower digs, packs, and mails the tree to you. Surely you pay a little extra—you're getting a prime tree.

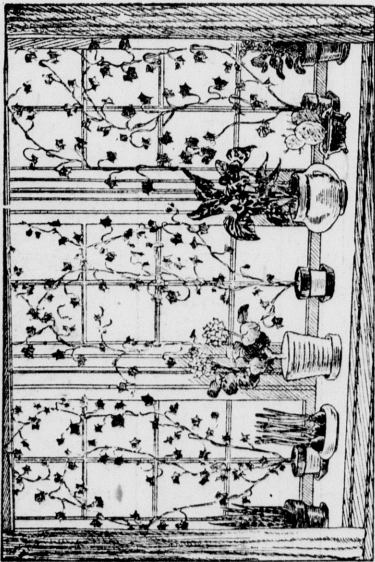

Well, you have your tree—let's plant it. Don't feel it in or set it to one side till next week—plant it! First, prune it to the approximate number of framework branches you want your mature tree to have. Cut these back at least one third—then stand off a few feet and try to imagine what shape the mature tree will have—O.K.?

See Swelling

You see that swelling or offset in the trunk a couple of inches above the root? Well, that's where the nurseryman put a must not be overlooked. If you

Window Garden Hobbyists Watch Winter Pass

Amateur gardeners may practice their hobby all winter, gaining both pleasure and valuable experience, by forcing flowers to bloom for a window garden.

A great variety of flowers may be forced into bloom indoors with little trouble. Arranged on shelves near a sunny window, they will keep fresh throughout the winter the memory of summer days.

Experience in growing flowers indoors is of value in outdoor operations, too. The gardener sees at close hand the progress of the plants, and learns how gratefully they respond to intelligent care.

The easiest plants to grow indoors are the fall bulbs, both the hardy kinds, which are grown in gardens, and tender varieties which will not stand our winters, but grow vigorously indoors.

Some of them need potting in soil, others can be grown in pebbles with fiber, moss, or even pebbles and water. Select them according to the experience you have had, and the attention you are willing to give them. It is easiest to grow those which flower in pebbles and water, but more interesting, and a better test of your gardening skill, to bring into flower those which require soil.

Most bulbs can be grown in soil, a smaller number in fiber, and still fewer in water with pebbles, or moss. To bring with the latter, they include the tender narcissi, known as Paper Whites (white), Soliel d'Or (yellow), and others.

Want good fruit you'll have to thin. This is an established practice in orchards producing top quality plums, peaches, etc. When the fruit has reached the size of a marble go over your tree and remove enough of the small fruit to guarantee good size in what you leave. Of course if the set is light due to rain at blooming time you'll thin only where clusters of fruit have set.

What fruit does your family like most? There are certain limitations to what trees will bear even in California! When you place your order with your local nurseryman check each item with him as to its productivity in your locality. Dig holes for those new trees today—they'll be here before you know it!

John Reber Makes No Little Plans

Actor's Vision, Determination Brings Top Talent Support for Rebuilding San Francisco Bay

By PAUL NEWELL

King Solomon's oft quoted proverb: "Where there is no vision, the people perish," should be put in reverse so far as a lot of bold planning Californians are concerned. And if men with colossal imagination of John Reber get their way, California and the West should survive for a good long time.

For more than 40 years, Reber has been dreaming up a plan to rebuild San Francisco Bay and create two great fresh water reservoirs at either end of the bay which would conserve a yearly average of 30,000,000 acre feet of Sacramento-San Joaquin River basin water now going to waste in the blue Pacific.

Reber, who is an actor by profession, has not only dreamed his fantastic dream, he has acted all these years with such boldness and stubborn determination that a whole galaxy of top bracket admirals, generals, engineers and politicians are on his side. A U.S. Senate Committee spent weeks examining his plan. Congress has appropriated $2,000,000 for the U.S. Army Engineers to study it and the California Legislature is giving it serious examination.

Two Bay Crossings

Essentially, the plan calls for construction of two earth and rockfill dams, salt water barriers, crossing San Francisco Bay, the lower connecting Alameda and San Francisco counties, the upper connecting Marin and Contra Costa counties. The two great fresh water lakes created by these dams are to be connected by a ship channel along the east side of the bay from the City of Alameda to Pinole Point.

An hydraulic fill of the shallow east shore of the bay over a three-mile width and 13-mile length would create large areas for industrial sites, naval base and airport sites and one or more multiple ship locks would be built between the bay and the ship channel.

Cost estimates of the Reber plan are $240,000,000 and an estimated $4,000,000,000 in new real estate will be created by the plan.

Reaction of the average Californian to the Reber plan depends on what part of the state he resides. If he lives in San Francisco it may offer him hope of a solution to impossible traffic snarls and a little more chance of survival in the event of an atomic bombing. The plan's proposed island superhighway over the land causeway to Oakland plus assurance that the transcontinental tracks of the Santa Fe and Western Pacific as well as all lines of the Southern Pacific would terminate in San Francisco, give him considerably better contact with the outside world.

Water for Santa Clara Valley

If he lives in San Jose or the water-deficient Santa Clara Valley, the plan gives him some hope of an additional fresh water supply, plus a marvelous fresh water lake nearby, for recreational purposes.

If he lives on the Marin peninsula or in the Redwood Empire, he has a chance of rail connections with the big San Francisco Bay cities and the rest of the state. According to the Reber plan, the tracks of the Northwestern Pacific, as well as a super highway, would cross the earth dam from Contra Costa to Marin counties.

If he lives in the East Bay

All those millions of people living close to the San Francisco Bay, the Reber plan means something specific but to the rest of those who live in the East Bay, the plan offers relief from costly salt water intrusion. CALIFORNIA Fashions

What's New in Suits for You

By HELEN WEILL
Fashion Editor

Who said, "There is certainly nothing static about fashions for this mid-century season?" Whether it was a stylist, designer or You "tis right, and underscoring of individuality that makes style choice appealing to all and important to everyone.

And it is your day, whether you are the lady with the needle and the tape measure, or my less energetic sister, who selects her wardrobe ready-made. For both may have the same idea in pattern, fabric and color, and each may have her costume adapted for herself alone.

And that adaptation is the exciting feature of today in our United States, particularly in our own California, where style for my lady has become the casual livable thing, adapted to California living. And that is the reason that so many great original designers come not only from the Eastern markets to our Pacific Coast, but designers from Paris, herself, are among those registered in our Western market.

International Accent

All these designers seem to be in agreement in that there is a new international accent in fashion. American designers visiting Paris, French ones visiting here. Featured are tweeds from Great Britain, plaids in the Scottish, mood trumpet silhouettes from Paris, the stole from Spain, and Mandarin (new again) from a part in my lady's great collection of ready-to-wear, but

Tailored Chic Keynote

One of the oldest manufacturers of sportswear—stressing both jackets and skirts—is the firm of Gertman-California. The imported French spun worsted, domestic tweeds, for both jackets and skirts which are exclusive to this firm, and basic wool and gabardine skirts to team with multi-color plaids, solid flannel, and woolen jackets.

Tailored trimness is featured in both jackets and skirts. Typically college clothes, the youthful feeling seen throughout the line is yet conservative enough that they can be worn by women of almost any age. Plaids in unusual arrangements are used on slim-line skirts . . . and several buttons waist-to-hem that can be worn off-center for an interesting effect. This also eliminates "sitting out" the back of the skirt, assures a skirt that maintains its shape after a great deal of wear.

Waist-length battle jackets are used in a variety of fabrics, with enough of the bulk eliminated for figure flattery. Little boy influence can be seen in the Eton blazer jacket that teams so well with a number of different skirts.

Indeed, the choice of fabric, bluish greens, new brown tones, lively reds and deep purples, Tawny tones, rusty orange shades are nice too, and it is pleasant to remember that lovely black has never relinquished her popularity.

Quicker, a basic black dress is a must in my lady's wardrobe, and though it be used more than one season, this means it may be dressed up or down with new jacket, new accessories and hats. And there are subjects that please the heart of every lady, and tease the purse of every man. There is no means for greater lift of ego in the power of Dame Fashion than a new hat, a new fabulous fake diamond, or wee scatter pin . . . and of those, more, much more will be said on the week-mor-tow.

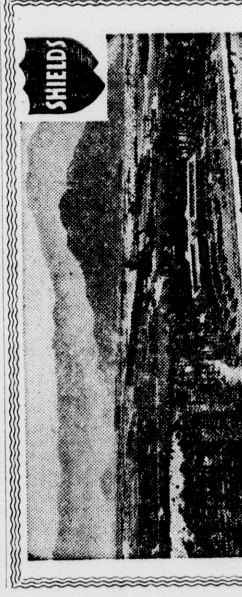

Color, Fabric Add Interest

Colors right out of the spectrum align themselves with good basic shades for day-time and after-five modes in California made fashions. Persimmon, orange copper, russet and pumpkin are used alone and as accents for gray, black and navy. Skipper and navy blue continue to be good basic colors, while an important though small group of claret, violet-blues and wine shades prove of interest. Oxford and charcoal grays are found in woofs and rayons, set off with gold, flame, orange or royal. Some off-white is being used, particularly in pure silks and jerseys.

Fabrics, both imported and domestic, can be counted on for conversational topics. Wool, challis, printed, plaids and solids, seem bound for new-making styles; men's wear flannel, tweeds and gabardines are popular for suits and casual dresses, stressing light rather than heavy weights. Jersey, low neck filled in with a pink velvet, corduroy are all ducky.

Slim Is Word

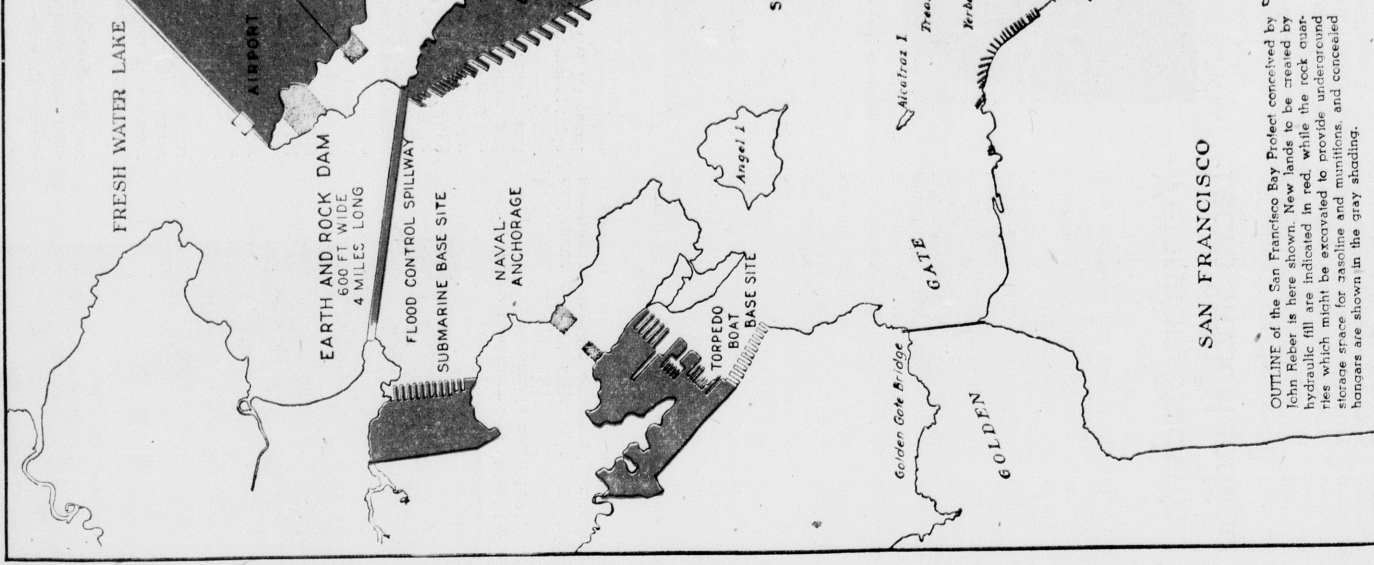

Slim is the word for the new suits on tailored lines. Black velvet for a handsome suit, its preplanned jacket with a double-breasted cutaway front has a low neck filled in with a pink velvet, corduroy are all ducky.

LOCAL CAGERS LOOK GOOD IN SEASON OPENER

The Washington Huskie and Puppy basketball squads scored victories Wednesday in their 1950-51 season opener against Menlo, both turning in outstanding performances for their first game.

The Puppies had a hard struggle to maintain a narrow margin gained early in the game. They led 11 to 9 at the half and built up their lead to 29-21 at the final gun. Jim Boliva and Tony Nieves paced the local quintet with seven points each, the remainder of the scoring being equally divided, a factor which represents well coordinated team work.

Coach Clyde Voorhees' varsity squad apparently had some difficulty realizing that the football season had terminated in the opening half of their game. Sixteen personal fouls were chalked up against the Huskies in the first two quarters of the game. However, the outstanding defense performance of Guard Evans, held Menlo to a lone field goal during all that time.

The Huskies, with Davis the only man who could hit the loop for field goals, held but a 15-14 margin at the half-time.

In the second half the Huskies got their scoring drive organized and ran the final score up to 38 to 25. Ralph "Whitey" Juhl poured 18 points through the hoop to lead his teammates in scoring, followed by George Silveira with 10, Lloyd Davis with 8 and Wood with 2.

Starting line-up of the game was: Juhl and Silveira, forwards; Davis and Evans, guards, and Vargas, center.

Coach Voorhees said today that the Washington squads show great possibilities and he is hopeful of a very successful season. "We have some rough spots to be ironed out but all the boys looked good Wednesday." The fine ball handling and formation of offensive plays by Evans came in for par-

DECOTO BOXER WINS TOURNAMENT BOUTS

On Monday, Nov. 27, Abel Villarreal, 124-pound Decoto boxer, knocked his way into the quarter final rounds of the novice class in the Golden Gloves tournament being held in San Francisco.

The scrappy little boxer decided Charles Crockett of Oakland to get into the final rounds.

Last Friday Villarreal won over Collier Fox, air force fighter from Mather Air Force Base, to advance another notch in the tournament.

The finals in the tourney for the three classes, senior, junior and novice, are to be held on December 9.

ticular praise from Voorhees.

Today (Friday) the two squads will journey to Pleasanton for a double-header scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Monday they will be hosts to the Hayward squads with the first game called for 3:30 p.m.

Wednesday they will meet the Bellarmine quintets on the San Jose maples at 3:30.

Friday they will journey to Santa Cruz for a pair of games and on Saturday will meet the Carmel squads.

MISSION SAN JOSE NEWS

QUITE AN ERROR

Tut! Tut! What errors we do make sometimes in this mad rushing day of ours to putting the wrong families together. Imagine Mr. and Mrs. Litchfield's surprise when, unbeknown to them, they had a daughter and two grandchildren living with them while daughter's husband was overseas. I had (imagine this) GIVEN Mrs. Fay Fields and her daughter and son to the Litchfields, when in reality they belonged to Mr. and Mrs. Renfrow. I hope my error won't start an inter-village war.

CHRISTENING

Sunday at the St. Joseph Church little Marjorie Ann Phillips was christened. Her godmother and godfather are her aunt, Dorothy, and uncle, Ray Mendonca. She is the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Phillips.

P. O. OPENING

Folks, the Mission post office will remain open on Saturdays, the 9th, 16th and 23rd, from 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., for your convenience and Christmas mailing.

TO THE HOSPITAL

We are sorry to learn that Mrs. Maude Dutra, mother of Margaret Phillips, Grace Vieth and Dorothy Mendonca, has been taken to the hospital in San Leandro. She has been ill for some time with diabetes but now she is suffering from complications.

HOLIDAY VISITOR

Little Miss Katherine Burt of Citrus Heights is the house guest of her cousin, little Lorene Garcia, for the Christmas holidays. The mommie and daddy are Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Burt, former Mission residents.

HOUSEGUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Hill from Anchorage, Alaska, have been house guests of his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hill. They have found an apartment in Niles and he has found employment near here.

THE CANASTA CLUB

The 4-Cers Canasta Club held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Thompson on Friday last with all twelve members present. This is the first time in months for someone was usually away on vacation before. The hostesses home was gaily decorated with fall arrangements of shrubs and flowers. John Amaral won first prize and Harold Millard won boogie. This is the first time the men have skunked the women and carried off the prizes. The refreshments consisted of the regular thing, cheese and crackers, coffee cake and coffee.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Mission Youth Center held their regular meeting Tuesday and made final plans for their Christmas party at the school house for December 9. Guests will be invited and each one will bring a small gift as his admission card. Games will be played, also dancing and, we hope, lots of good Christmas singing. Glenn and Lois Bottenberg, advisors, Herman and Beverly Medeiros, chaperones, with their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Brown (former Laura Mae Medeiros, member of the Youth Center), will have charge of the group.

TO THE CITY

The boys and girls of the upper classes at the elementary school motored to San Francisco last Saturday in several of the parents' and teachers' cars, to have a day of fun. Everyone reported a good time in spite of all the rain and bad weather.

MOTHERS CLUB

The Mothers Club met Thursday evening at the school for their regular business meeting, followed by a round table discussion of coming events and also to hem tea towels for their use at social functions. The hostesses for the evening were Hazel Millard, Janie Lofton and Dot Koelsch. They served delicious apple strudel made by Dot. The mothers have been helping with the costumes for the Christmas play under the direction of Hazel Millard, primary teacher in instructor. It will take place December 15 at 8 p.m. The public is invited.

83rd BIRTHDAY

November 29 was a day for Mrs. Emily Telles to be very happy for she celebrated her 83rd birthday at her home here with three daughters, Mrs. Nora Pereira of Mission, Mrs. Marie Lopes of San Leandro, and Miss Adeline Telles, also of the Mission, having an afternoon party for her with Grandson Sgt. Frank Lopes of U. S. Army Air Corps, Fairfield, present. Mrs. Adeline Kempton, a granddaughter, and great-granddaughters Ruthie and Joyce, and great-grandson Henry Jr., all of Irvington, shared her day. Stanley and Robert Caires, who make their home with the family, were there and later in the evening William Ferreira, another grandson, came for the evening. She received many nice gifts among them a lovely camellia plant in a huge pot for inside the house as she is a "shut-in." Cake and coffee were served all the folks.

CORRECTION

Contained in last week's issue of The Register was a story of the death of Ernest Sabina, in which it was stated that Mr. Sabina was the owner of the Varsity Cafe in Centerville.

The Register stands corrected in that statement, according to Mrs. Bernice Meek, who stated this week that she is the owner and that Mr. Sabina had been working there as manager.

DIRECTORS TO MEET

A special meeting of the Board of Directors of the Centerville Chamber of Commerce will be held at noon today (Friday) at Kleine's Cafe in Centerville.

SCIENCE AND THE WEATHER

Experiments in artificial rain-making have excited the scientific mind to the extent that the Association of Land Grant Colleges now favors an organized program of studies in the field, according to current news from Washington, D. C. Already government agencies, including the Army, Weather Bureau, and Departments of Agriculture and the Interior, are taking official interest in the matter.

ENTHUSIASTS AND DOUBTERS

The much publicized venture of New York City, which called in a rain-making expert during its drought emergency of last summer, ended in controversy. Rain came along, all right, while the expert was doctoring clouds with dry ice and silver ice—the standard ingredients of forced precipitation up to now—and the drought finally ended. Enthusiasts hailed the rain-maker as a veritable miracle man, and thought his fee was money well spent. Doubters, however, contended that the success was due to the chance of coincidence—that, in all likelihood, it would have rained about that time anyhow. They had, at least, the point that rain was long overdue!

STRONGER EVIDENCE

A good many New Mexico ranchers are definitely convinced, by all accounts, that a rain-making experiment they joined to finance was a success. Estimates that they benefited to the extent of 40 million dollars through crops saved by the man-made rain have been made—and apparently agreed with by some ranchers of the experiment area.

ONLY HALF THE BATTLE

The distress and heavy damage of California's recent storm-produced floods conjures the thought that scientific rain-making leaves half of the weather problem untouched. If man has—or can—perfect means to turn on a down-pour from any passing cloud at will, it should be within the realm of possibility to develop some means of shutting off unwanted deluges before they can do harm. The faucet of science, if and when produced, should turn both ways.

TROUBLE AHEAD—IN ANY CASE

A hint that nothing that man may do, by all his genius, will benefit and please everybody is contained in a bill introduced in Congress anent rain-making. This measure would permit the government—which means the taxpayers—to pay damage claims against any contractor engaged in experimentation on clouds.

In rain, as in anything else, one man's meat may be another's poison. One can imagine a grape grower, whose crop would be ruined by rain at a certain stage, being aggrieved by rain induced to benefit a neighbor who has no grapes but grows a crop needing water and lots of it.

The practical ultimate should be a science so exact that the artificial rain could be pinpointed to fall just where desired—and nowhere else. Nothing seems impossible in this age of wonders! But we wonder!

INFLATION SWEEPS ON

By many news reports from over the nation, inflation in agriculture—both in land prices and, generally, in market prices for farm products—is still on the rise, with prospects for even higher levels in 1951.

In a recent United Press dispatch from Omaha, correspondent William A. Drake wrote that in the Midwest "the boom has doubled the value of most farm lands since 1940-41 and in some cases land is selling for three times the pre-war price. Land which couldn't be peddled for $75 an acre 20 years ago is bringing bids of $250 to $300 or more."

HEDGE AGAINST INFLATION?

Newsman Drake adds the interesting comment that the land boom there is "attributed by realtors to a desire by investors to put their money into something that will increase in value as inflation chips away the buying power of the dollar . . . hundreds of investors are bidding against each other for land in Iowa, Eastern Nebraska, Illinois and Indiana . . . the brisk market has made it difficult to buy farms in most Midwest states."

WARNING FROM THE 1920s

This situation is in striking parallel to that of the very early 1920s. The inflation of World War I had driven farm land prices even higher, in some places, than they are now. Hungry Europe needed all the surplus food the U. S. could produce. Farm produce brought such high prices in the market that land even at inflationary cost was profitable to work.

But when the inflation went into a tail spin, and the artificial values of both land and crops collapsed to depression levels, hundreds of thousands of farmers—and "inflation hedging" speculators as well—went into bankruptcy.

NEED FOR CAUTION

Sound investment in land—or any other good real property—may well be about the best hedge against inflation that offers just now. But sound investment, in times like these, means cash investment—not credit investment. Farmers of the 1920s who resisted the temptation to use the easy credit of that inflationary time to get title to added acreage, but used only their savings from the wartime prosperity to buy land outright, at least had their land left when the bottom dropped out of the economic world. Then credit investors had neither land nor money left when mortgage-holders moved in to foreclose.

TWO COINS

The coin of inflation is to some people a bright and shiny coin. But the prudent man will not forget that there is another coin, marked "deflation." No man can foretell with certainty when the coin of deflation may flip to the surface to replace the other.

Many early colonial printers and editors conducted "general stores" in connection with their newspaper plants.

YULE PARTY PLANNED

The Alvarado Farm Home Department will be hostess at the Christmas dessert party at the Methodist Church in Hayward on Dec. 15 at 1 p.m., for the Farm Home Garden Club. About 40 are expected to attend. There will be an exchange of gifts and games. In charge are Mrs. Adeline Santos, of Centerville, president of the local group. Mrs. Nora Vargas, Mrs. Ida Rogers and Mrs. Rose Peixotto.

DESSERT BRIDGE

The wives of the W.U.H.S. faculty held their monthly get-together on November 30. The dessert bridge party was held at the home of Mrs. Irving Hird in Niles with Mrs. Hugh Kibby serving as co-hostess. Those present were Mrs. William Mette, Warren Gravestock, Steb Loze, J. V. Gould, George Reeves, Dwight Thornburg, Gerald Rehrig, Bryce Phillips, Clyde Voorhees, Don Wolfe and Jud Taylor.

SUNDAY DINNER GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Silveira and son, Danny, of Mowry Avenue were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Perry of Oakland.

TO HOLD PACK NIGHT

Centerville Cub Scouts will hold pack night on December 18 at the Elementary School. Skits will be presented and crafts displayed. Santa Claus will also be present with candy for the children. Parents and friends are urged to attend this festive affair. Refreshments will be served.

NEW CAR

James George of Centerville is driving around in a new car these days.

BRIDGE CLUB MEETS

Mrs. Dwight Thornburg was hostess to a group of ladies at a bridge party held at her home last Tuesday evening. Those who enjoyed the evening were Mrs. Peggy Voorhees, Mrs. Bernice Nordvik, Mrs. Marie Logan, Mrs. Bob Moore, Mrs. Frances MacGregor, Mrs. Lloyd Bailey, Mrs. Lois Gravestock and Mrs. Allan Hirsch.

IN HOSPITAL

Mr. Joe Caldeira of Thornton Avenue, who has been ill for some time, is under observation at the San Jose Hospital. We wish him a speedy recovery.

TELEVISION SET

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Telles and family of Oak Street are enjoying their new television set which was installed last week.

HOLY GHOST MISSION

A mission, which began December 3 and will continue through December 10, is being held at the Catholic Church here by the Rev. James J. Harrington, a Paulist Missionary. The morning services are masses at 6:30 and 8 a.m. The evening services consist of prayer, question box, sermon and benediction, begin at 7:30 p.m. every day and will close on Sunday evening. Everyone is urged to attend these services. The sermons have been very interesting and Rev. Harrington is a wonderful speaker. The sermon topics for the remainder of the week are: Friday, "The Catholic Home"; Saturday, "No Truer Friends"; and Sunday, "Christ or Chaos." The mission is for all, non-Catholics being invited to the services.

ST. JAMES ACTIVITIES

Services December 10, second Sunday in Advent (Bible Sunday): Holy communion at 8 a.m., Church School at 9:45 a.m. and morning prayer and sermon at 11. The Rev. Kenneth Nelson, canon of Grace Cathedral in San Francisco and executive secretary of the Department of Christian Social Relations of the Diocese, will preach. This will be his second visit to St. James. A nursery is provided in the rectory during the morning service. The first meeting of the Young Peoples' Fellowship will be held at the church Sunday at 7 p.m. The group will be a part of a nationwide organization for teen-agers and will hold weekly meetings on Sunday evenings. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miller of Centerville will be the leaders.

Wednesday, Dec. 13, at 12:30 p.m., St. James Guild will hold their Christmas meeting.

Thursday, Dec. 14, 7:30 p.m., choir practice.

AT FOOTBALL GAME

Mr. and Mrs. George Pimentel and family enjoyed a train trip to Los Angeles last week-end to attend the U.S.C.-Notre Dame football game. Saturday evening they attended a dinner and dance.

ALTAR SOCIETY MEETS

The Altar Society of the Holy Ghost Church held their monthly meeting at the parish hall last Monday afternoon.

SCHOOL PERSONNEL TO HAVE CHEST X-RAYS

The Washington Union High School Board of Trustees, at their meeting Tuesday evening, passed a resolution requesting all certified and non-certified personnel to have chest x-rays when the portable unit visits the school next month.

HINTS FOR HOMEMAKERS

KEEP CHRISTMAS OLD-FASHIONED WITH HOMEMADE CANDY GIFTS

Having lots of friends is fun, but when Christmas-present time rolls around, it can be a problem, too—especially if you're on a budget (and who isn't?).

In this day of so many gadget-gifts, you can surprise your friends with something pleasantly old-fashioned—and ease the financial burden of gift-buying at the same time—by making candy for Christmas giving.

The General Electric Consumers Institute suggests that you buy unusual but inexpensive containers, such as cups and saucers, little baskets or plastic boxes, for your homemade sweets and overwrap each package with cellophane or scented gift paper, ribbon and Christmas seals.

Or, if you're planning a gala holiday dinner, you can make take-home table decorations for your guests by lining star-shaped dessert molds with lace-paper doilies, filling them with homemade candies and putting miniature peppermint sticks in the middle.

Homemade candy, incidentally, will also be a happy choice for the youngest family members' gifts to school friends and doting grandparents.

Here are some suggestions for colorful and tasty candies that are quick and easy to make with your electric mixer and range.

Easy Fondant

Tested in the G-E Consumers Institute

1 egg white 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/2 teaspoons cold water peppermint or almond extract
2 1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar desired

Place egg white and water in medium bowl and blend with enough sugar to make a stiff fondant which can be easily handled. Knead until smooth, adding and blending desired amount of extract and food coloring. Shape into balls, flat patties or squares. Decorate with candied cherries, coconut, chocolate shavings or small candies. Fondant may be divided into sections and each part tinted a different color and decorated in a different way.

Peanut Butter Coconut Balls

Tested in the G-E Consumers Institute

1/2 cup creamy peanut butter 2 tablespoons sugar
1 1/2 cups moist shredded coconut 1 tablespoon vanilla extract nut (1 1/4-ounce can)

Place ingredients in small mixer bowl. Beat at a medium speed (Speed 5) until blended (about 2 minutes). Shape into 1/2-inch balls and chill in refrigerator until firm. Makes 35-40 balls.

Glazed Almonds

Tested in the G-E Consumers Institute

1 cup shelled almonds 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
2 tablespoons water

Mix ingredients in large skillet until sugar is moistened. Cook over a high heat, turning almonds constantly, with a wide spatula until most of the moisture has evaporated. Lower heat and continue to turn almonds until they are glazed. Place almonds on lightly greased baking sheet, separating with 2 forks while they are still hot. Cool and store in airtight container. Makes 7 ounces.

Your friends will enjoy the old-fashioned touch in a gaily-wrapped box of homemade Christmas candy. It's easy to make, and it's a good gift for small fry to take to teachers and grandmothers.

ALVARADO SOLDIER MISSING IN ACTION

Mrs. Helen Revada of Baker Road, Alvarado, was notified this week that her son, Corporal Henry N. Aguel, 22, is missing in action in Korea.

Aguel had been serving his second enlistment with the army. He first entered the service about four years ago and went overseas with the Medical Corps of the First Cavalry.

Letters received from him on October 30 said he was "glad the war is about over . . . expect to be in Japan soon . . . I hope Cal goes to the Rose Bowl again."

He is the oldest of Mrs. Revada's 11 children.

Silver Anniversary Pontiacs Make Bow

Pontiac's 1951 Silver Anniversary models bring twenty-eight fresh styling innovations and seventeen mechanical improvements to the line. The new Pontiacs, now on display, again are available with six or eight cylinder engines. All models offer a choice of Hydra-Matic or synchro mesh transmission. The popular Chieftain four-door sedan pictured exemplifies the advanced styling of the Pontiac Line.

HOME IN NILES IS SUBJECT OF STORY IN STATE BULLETIN

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman P. Luna at 296 Jones Way, Niles, is the subject of a feature story in the December issue of the News Bulletin of the California State Department of Veterans Affairs.

The article and accompanying pictures is the twenty-fourth in a series pointing out how World War II veterans have used the State Farm and Home Purchase Program to good advantage.

The article states: "For four years after his discharge from the paratroops, Norman P. Luna wrestled with the problem of a permanent home for his family. He was reluctant to make a long-term investment until he found the right place, or the nearest thing to it.

"Finally, a few months ago, he learned of a house in a new subdivision just outside of Niles. The owner had had it built for himself but had been forced to change his plans and move to another town. It suited the Lunas' family requirements perfectly.

"For one thing, it had a pleasing architectural appearance. For another, the lot was deep, allowing plenty of scope for Luna's desire for a large vegetable garden. Again, the water was virtually free of charge, as the result of an old right of way agreement dating back to the days when the subdivision was a ranch through which a metropolitan water line passed. Finally, the street was a blind one, providing a safety factor for the Lunas' twin eight-year-old sons.

"As an added attraction, the house had a fine view of the Niles Canyon hills to the east.

"At about the same time as he discovered the house, Luna learned from a friend about the State Farm and Home Purchase Program, with its low interest rate and other features. He submitted his application to the Oakland office of the Department of Veterans Affairs, and the house qualified easily for the maximum state advance of $7,500.

"Under the state plan, Luna discovered, his monthly installments on the house in Niles, plus his local taxes, came to less than he had recently been paying for the rent of a dilapidated house in a neighboring town.

"Several features in the design of the house itself, as well as the location and appearance, made it desirable for the veteran and his family. The dining room, for example, was placed so that cross-ventilation is possible for both it and the living room. The service area of the garage is not contained within the garage space itself, but is located in a small area just off the rear of the garage, and is reached by a few steps leading from the kitchen.

Both bedrooms are ample in size, and the boys' bedroom has an extra-large closet which, in Luna's words, 'prevents a lot of arguments.'

"The ex-paratrooper, who served in the Pacific Theater, is employed at a nearby steel plant. In his spare time he has completed a solid fence around the large lot, and is now building a brick barbecue pit."

MRS. EDNA HESCHER
NEW NOBLE GRAND

Mrs. Edna Hescher of Niles was elected Noble Grand of the Rebekah Lodge at a meeting held last Friday.

Other new officers are as follows: Elizabeth Mendenhall, vice-grand; Irma Wright, recording secretary; Fern Mitte, financial secretary; Ivy Cull, treasurer; and Anna Van Buskirk, trustee for three years.

Installation ceremonies will take place January 19 at Odd Fellows Hall in Irvington under the direction of Anna Andresen, district deputy of District No. 53.

Appointive officers will be named at a later date.

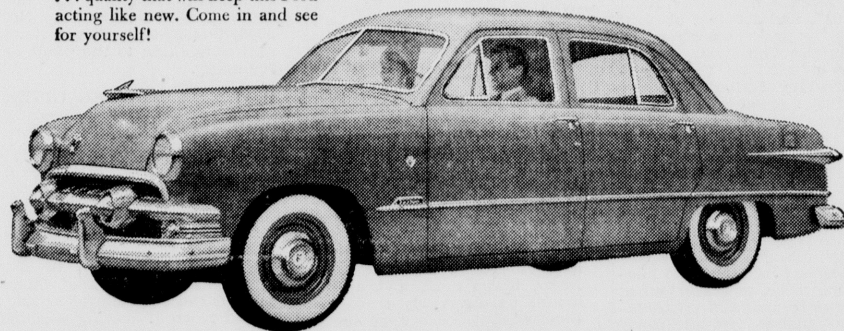

AFTERNOON WHIST
PARTY ON SUNDAY

A near capacity crowd of card players is expected Sunday afternoon at the high gymnasium when the Washington Township Sportsmen's Club stage their annual benefit whist party.

J. R. (Pete) Nunes, general chairman, has announced that the party will get under way promptly at 2 p.m. and said this week that a vast assortment of outstanding prizes has been assembled.

Why is it that poliomyelitis which occurs less often than many diseases which are just as crippling in their effects, is so feared by parents? One reason may be that polio comes with dramatic suddenness, while other diseases may begin more gradually and their after effects may not be fully realized for some time. Another reason may be that we know less about how polio is spread so that we cannot take positive steps to prevent it as we can tuberculosis, smallpox, and diphtheria.

Let us take a look at the polio cases in our county. Between January and October of this year there have been 14 cases in the southern part of the county and 54 cases in the county as a whole. During that same period of time, 116 cases of previously unknown tuberculosis were reported in the southern part of the county alone, and 352 in the entire county.

The large sums of money which are spent each year for polio research are bringing results today. We know a great deal about the disease. As a result, methods of dealing with it have changed in the last few years. We know now that most people have an extremely mild, undiagnosed case of polio some time during their lifetime. Therefore, contacts to diagnosed cases are no longer quarantined. Schools are not closed during polio season, because we know this will not stop the spread. We know that polio is caused by a germ called a virus. Chickenpox, measles and influenza are also caused by viruses. We know that more than half of the people who have a diagnosed case of polio recover completely without any crippling effects. You can see that we do understand a great deal about polio, that it may be cured, and that the disease itself is not so frightening as the fear it causes to parents. With this knowledge let us meet situations as they arise without panic.

Bridge Club Has Buffet Supper

The new home of the John Whipples was the setting for a pot-luck buffet supper last Sunday evening given by members of one of the township's conversational bridge clubs. The guests of honor for the evening were the husbands, who are allowed to invade the inner sanctums of the club once a year to see what actually goes on in a women's bridge club. They didn't get a true picture of the situation, however, for the evening was spent playing, not bridge, but canasta.

Those present were the Will Lamoreuxs, the John Whipples, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mackintosh, Mr. and Mrs. John Cortner, the Howard Overackers, the Vern Batmans, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Robbins, the George Coefields, and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Fisher.

Progressive Dinner And Dancing Party

Several local couples, joined by two couples from Oakland, will participate in a progressive dinner this Sunday and are planning to wind up the affair by folk-dancing in the Manuel Pontes barn.

Those who will attend are Mr. and Mrs. Lex Jensen and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Alexander of Oakland, who will take in the Welfare Christmas tour prior to the dinner; and the Howard Overackers, the Earl Mackintoshes, the Tom Robbins, the Frank Fields, the Clifford Johnsons, the Maurice Marks, the Manuel Pontes, and Frances and Ed Mara.

Birthday Fun

Guy Overacker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Overacker of Mission San Jose, celebrated his fourth birthday recently with a party for a few of his playmates. Still not of the age when food is the important element in their lives, the youngsters became so interested in playing with each other that they almost ignored the party cake and ice cream.

Those present were Kathy and David Logan; Richard, Alice and Donald Coefield, Jimmy Jones, Leah Overacker, and Bruce and Gary Barnum.

Luncheon and Bridge

Mrs. Ethel Grau entertained members of her bridge club last Tuesday with luncheon preceding the card playing. Those present included Mmes. Margaret Zwissig of Napa, Eve Salz of Redwood City, Dove Beeger of Redwood City, Marjorie Brown of Redwood City, Estelle Holeman of Centerville, Edna Tyson of Niles, and Sue Manley of Hayward.

Double Shower for Irvington Girls

The home of the A. W. Benbows of Irvington was the scene of a double shower last Saturday evening, honoring Mrs. Benbow's two nieces, Mrs. Phillip Erlwein (Nelda Hammond), a recent bride, and Miss Ebba Rae Benbow, who will become the bride of John Terry this Sunday, December 10.

Both girls were presented with corsages by their mothers as they arrived.

The table was decorated with white stocks and carnations, and at either end was a cake for the two honorees.

The guests included Mmes. Hazel Benbow of Berkeley, George Styles of San Mateo, Walter Greb of San Leandro, Eugene Terry of Oakland, Oliver Benbow of Irvington, Ray Benbow of Irvington, Helena Hammond of Irvington, and Mrs. Wendell Tully of Los Gatos. Mrs. Wesley Hammond was unable to attend as she was in the hospital with a brand new daughter.

Bridal Shower for Ebba Rae Benbow

Miss Ebba Rae Benbow, who will become the bride of John Terry, this Sunday, was the honoree at a bridal shower given for her at the home of Mrs. Louis Martini in San Jose last Sunday. The shower was given by Barbara Bone, who will be a bridesmaid. Guests were former classmates of Miss Benbow at San Jose State. Local people invited were Mrs. Phillip Erlwein (Nelda Hammond) and Mrs. Ray Benbow.

Brahmsts Fete Employees

Employees of the Niles Electric Company will be feted at their annual Christmas dinner by Mr. and Mrs. John Brahmst tonight (Friday) at the International Kitchen.

Guests will be Mr. and Mrs. John Cattaneo, Mr. and Mrs. William Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Costa, Mr. and Mrs. Ruel Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crouse, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Burkholder, Miss Helen Vieux and Don Batman.

A Little Sister

Little Alfred Parrish Jr., two-and-a-half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Parrish of Newark, is enjoying being "big brother" to his new little baby sister, Susan Marie, who was born November 20 at the San Jose Hospital.

Third Son

David Cardoza arrived at the Alameda Hospital last Monday, weighing six pounds and eight ounces, thus making it a trio of boys for his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cardoza of Centerville.

Irvington Pastor to Be Married Dec. 19

It will be a five o'clock ceremony on December 19 at the Irvington Community Church that will unite in marriage Mr. Cecil Rhoades, pastor of the church, and Miss Gerry Jones.

Miss Jones, who makes her home in New York, is expected to arrive in California with her mother on the sixteenth.

The Ad-a-mites, young matrons' organization of the church, has arranged the details of the reception which will follow the ceremony. It will be held in the annex of the church.

Mr. Rhoades is a student at the San Anselmo Seminary.

Vow Exchange In San Jose

The Centella Methodist Church in San Jose was the setting for the vow-exchange last Sunday of Clyde Anderson, formerly of Centerville, and Betty Bennett of San Jose.

The bridegroom, a graduate of the class of '38 of Washington High, will be remembered here as the son of Clyde Anderson, formerly a jeweler in Centerville. He is presently employed as the foreman of the tool room at the Westinghouse plant in Sunnyvale.

Those from here who attended the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kirkish, and the bridegroom's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Coefield.

Newark Woman Weds Portland Man

The home of the Rev. John Peffers of Newark was the scene of a wedding last Saturday, December 2, that united in marriage the former Mrs. Charlotte May and Arthur Sartwell of Portland, Oregon.

The new Mrs. Sartwell, now employed at the Morton Salt Company, has lived in Newark for 35 years, but will move up to Portland after the first of the year to be with her husband. He is a telegrapher for the Portland Terminal Railroad, but formerly worked for the Southern Pacific in Newark.

Standing up with them at the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Shaw of Oakland.

In the Hospital

The many friends of Mrs. Emma Murray, Niles' beloved retired librarian, will be glad to hear that she is improving after a recent attack that sent her to Alameda Hospital. Her improvement is slow, however, and she will have to remain in the hospital for at least the rest of the week. After that time she will probably go to a rest home to complete her convalescence.

Visitor in Irvington Comes from Norway

Mrs. Marie Meyer of Vejle, Norway, left Copenhagen on Sunday evening and on the following Monday evening she was at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Iver Poulsen, in Irvington. Not only was she impressed by the speed of her plane trip but by the friendliness of the airplane personnel as she crossed the continent from New York.

This is Mrs. Meyer's first trip to America. She hasn't been here long enough to form any very definite opinions, but she does like the American people and is anxious to learn at least enough English so that she may greet them. Her visa permits her a six months' visit in this country.

"My mother isn't in very good health," said Mrs. Poulsen, "so we don't plan to take her on any extensive sight-seeing trips. She is just content to be with our family and visit us, although, of course, we will take her on short trips around here."

Attend Game in Southern California

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Connolly and son, John, and Miss Rosaline Egan motored down to Southern California last week-end to attend the U.S.C.-Notre Dame football game. They enjoyed everything, including the weather, which was perfect, said Mrs. Connolly, almost up until the time when they were ready to leave, when it started to rain.

Something to Celebrate

Mrs. Mae Peart of Niles was the honored guest at a birthday party at the home of her niece, Mrs. Marcel C. Petri on Margarita Drive in Claremont Pines, last Saturday. Mrs. Peart, who was 84, was presented with an orchid by her four-year-old grandson, Gary Petri.

Also attending the party were Mrs. Peart's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Parks, with whom she makes her home here in Niles.

To Attend Party

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Marks of Mission San Jose will motor over to Walnut Creek this Saturday evening to attend a dinner and Christmas party of the Eastbay Chiropractic Society at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Alex Arrighi.

Many a guy who thinks he is stealing a kiss, fails to realize he is losing his freedom.

LOCAL CLUB AIDS BLOOD PROGRAM

The first steps towards a blood donation program as a project for the Country Club of Washington Township were taken at last Tuesday's meeting. According to President Mrs. A. E. Alameda, the club will arrange transportation for donors to the nearest blood procurement center, whether it is a mobile unit in the township or to Oakland. Mrs. Walter Connolly is chairman of the project.

The business meeting of the Club preceded the annual Christmas tea, which was under the direction of the Home Arts Section. The program for the day was unusually entertaining. It comprised musical selections by La Golindrina, Hayward choral group.

The January meeting of the Club will be postponed until the second Tuesday of the month, rather than the usual first Tuesday, so that there will be no conflict with the holiday season. It will be a luncheon meeting.

Members who still want to purchase the history books put out by the club may do so by contacting Mrs. Alameda. "You may still purchase one for $3.09," she said, "although when they go on general sale in book stores the price will go up to over four dollars."

B. P. W. CLUB TO HELP NEEDY FAMILY

The Business and Professional Women's Club, meeting next Monday night in the art room of the high school, will further its plans for filling a Christmas basket for a needy family in the township. Miss Dorothy Czerny has charge of this project.

WELFARE TOUR THIS SUNDAY

One of the highlights of entertainment of the week-end will be the Christmas tour and tea sponsored by the Child Welfare Club, to be held Sunday from 1 to 6 p.m.

Home decorations for Christmas will be seen at the homes of Mrs. O. W. Ebright, at Niles, and Mrs. John Stevenson at Centerville. Tea will be served at the home of the club's president, Mrs. Allan Walton, at Centerville.

Decorations at the Walton home will be done by the flower arrangement class sponsored by the adult education program at the high school.

Proceeds from the tour will finance welfare projects of the club including the annual purchase of Christmas gifts for children in needy homes here.

IRVINGTON YULE PARTY ON DEC. 22

The annual Christmas party for the youngsters of Irvington, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, will be held on Friday, December 22, it was announced at the Tuesday meeting of the Chamber.

Gus Robertson announced that arrangements had been completed to show a movie in the school auditorium. Santa Claus will also make his appearance to distribute candy to each youngster.

Scoutmaster Wallace Pond announced that the Irvington Scout Troop, working with the cooperation of the merchants of the community, would handle the sale of Christmas trees this year. He said that the Scouts will set up a sales yard next to the post office.

SCRIP REDEMPTION CUTS STADIUM DEBT

Some 75 residents of Washington Township will receive notices through the mail the first of next week informing them that their Memorial Stadium lighting scrip is to be redeemed.

A drawing was held at Washington Union High School Monday to determine in what order $900 more of the scrip would be redeemed.

Warren Gravestock, president of the stadium lighting committee, said this week that persons whose names were drawn will be mailed cards asking that they either mail their scrip or take it to the high school to receive their checks.

The payment of the $900 from this year's gate receipts at the high school football games leaves a debt of but $4,800 to be paid off. A total of $10,500 in scrip was sold four years ago to finance the cost of lighting the stadium for night games.

Of the scrip still outstanding, $2,000 is held by individuals, which will be the first to be redeemed, $2,800 is held by organizations of the township. The $700 in scrip held by the student body of the high school will not be redeemed.

NILES P.T.A. TO MEET TUESDAY

The Niles P.T.A. will hold a meeting next Tuesday, December 12, at two o'clock, according to Mrs. Frank Andrade, president of the unit.

A program is planned, the nature of which is still undecided.

A good political leader must keep ahead of several crowds, each going in a different direction.

SOCIAL SECURITY EXPANDS ON JAN. 1

Many thousands of persons will be required to file Social Security returns on domestic help after January 1. Collector of Internal Revenue James G. Smyth and Charles H. Shreve, manager of the San Francisco Social Security office pointed out this week.

Under the provisions of the new Social Security Act, anyone employing domestic help 24 days in a three-month period and paying at least $50 in cash wages must file a Social Security return and report the wages paid in the month following the completion of the quarterly period.

Generally, maids, laundresses, housekeepers, cooks, nursemaids, valets, grooms, chauffeurs (of privately owned cars) and practical nurses will be included under the provisions of the new act.

Persons who do household work on a farm are protected under a different provision of the new law. Booklets, including application blanks for employer's Social Security number, may be obtained at post offices and Internal Revenue offices.

NEW USE FOR CLOTHES HANGERS

A wire clothes hanger can double as the frame for a homemade Christmas wreath, fashioned from fir, cedar, pine, redwood, laurel, boxwood, holly or other suitable greens. Home Advisor Maryetta Holman, of the University of California Agricultural Extension Service, suggests making them by the following easy method.

Shape the hanger until it is round, leaving the hook on top for hanging the finished wreath. Prepare strips of evergreen six inches long to cover the frame. Use a spool made of wire wound around a twig, or dark colored twine to tie on the greenery.

Start at the hook by wiring on little bunches of green. Keep the stems all running in one direction. Unwind just enough wire each time to fasten on one bunch of greens. If the wreath will hang where both sides are visible, place the greens on alternate sides, first on the front, then on the back.

Work in pine cones or sprigs of holly for added interest and decorate with a big red bow.
